

SARS-CoV-2 or the novel coronavirus (COVID-19) has seemingly emerged as the most pressing challenge confronting the world today, its complex realities having rapidly disrupted (indeed, having pervasively ensconced themselves at the centre of) diplomacy and global affairs.

Are you interested in acquiring substantive knowledge and real-world insight on the Caribbean Community's (CARICOM) pandemic-induced restrictions and policy responses, more so, understanding how regional strategies are being effected to tackle this unprecedented crisis? Do you want to gain a broader perspective on CARICOM regional integration processes and functional cooperation geared towards coronavirus-related mitigation and recovery? Are you keen to be apprised of the state-of-play and next steps by members of the bloc's policy community, who are drawn from institutions at the frontlines of the region's coronavirus battle?

Webinar Series

The DAOC Advantage™
Global Outlook. Real-world Impact. Caribbean Minded.™

If so, then join the Diplomatic Academy of the Caribbean (DAOC) on Tuesday, 22 September 2020

9:30am to 12:30pm (Atlantic Standard Time)

as a virtual audience member for a webinar it will host, entitled

The Caribbean and the Coronavirus Crisis: Big Problems for Small States

This DAOC-moderated webinar, which will be held via Zoom teleconference, features a panel of senior officials and experts drawn from

For registration details, including registration fee and deadline, please visit the DAOC website or contact Dr. Nand C. Bardouille at nand.bardouille@sta.uwi.edu and diplomaticacademy@sta.uwi.edu or at tel. no.: +1-868-662-2002, ext. 85359, 85362, 85360